Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands. every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.
Please to apply at my Exchange Bank in House, Bridge-street, Georgetown.

THE MOSQUITO.

"Musician of the midnight hour,"
Perdition seize thee, cruel power!
Full often have I dreaded thee,
And startled at thy minstrelsy;
When thou hast tuned thy little wing,
And bid its teasing numbers ring,
As thou wert wildly hovering near,
And buzzing round my slumbering ear.

The poet sweetly strikes his lyre,
That list'ning lady may admire;
The huntsman loudly blows his horn,
A token of the opening morn;
The bird pours forth his melody,
Expressive of light hearted glee;
But when thy music meets the ear,
The signal's given that danger's near.

Not thicker warlike weapons flew
Upon the field of Waterloo;
Nor did the morning's shuddering light
Look on a more distressful sight,
When on the battle's gory bed
Lay stretched the dying and the dead,
Than saw that night when Julian's face
Shrunk from the havoc of thy race.

'Tis not alone on battle plain
Thou marshalst out thy myriad train;
Nor on the boisterous wave alone
Thy dauntless bravery is shown;
Nor is it on the mountain height
Alone, that thou pursuest the fight;
In every genial atmosphere
The nations rue thy fatal spear.

CONCLUSION.

Evening has let her curtain fall,
And thrown her mantle o'er us all;
The children now are gone to bed,
The little urchin's laid his head,
And near him (for they could not part)
Reclines his favorite horse and cart,
His ball, his whistle and his kite,
His wooden sword and tinseled knight,
And I, in all but years, a boy,
Would cling around my favorite toy,
But slumber closes on my sight,
And I, like him, must rest—good night.

MAD POET.

DANDYISM.

To many antiquarians of the present day, it may be a matter of curiosity to trace the history of dandyism to its origin. It will be recolled, by those of your readers, Mr. Editor, who are well versed in oriental history, that among the twelve tribes of Israel, the tribe of Dan was always remarked to possess little brains, in comparison to the other tribes.—These men, (as is always the case) possessing no internal importance, attempted to gain something like exterior value by their exterior appearance. Hence, if we had lived in those remote days, we might easily have known a member of the tribe of Dan, by his over broad philacteries, his neatly fitted sandals, and, as is the case with their descendants, by their extraordinary compression of their girdles. These fashionable Israelites were so fond of appearing thin round the waist, that they injured their voices so much, as hardly to be heard, when they spoke at the judgment gates. An unfortunate accident is related of one of them. One of these men, on a visit to Jerusalem, was walking near the Probaton, or Probatic pond, and bending over to view the waters, on account of his high heeled sandals, he plunged in.—Straightened as this man was by his zone, (they are now called corsets) he was unable to make any exertion to save himself, but fell in, in a parabolic line, his head sticking in the mud, and his legs like the mast of a schooner, sticking upwards. A witty fisherman passing by, unlike the good Samaritan, had no pity on the poor man; but pretending to think that he had wished to wade over the pool, and then dry his clothes, observed—"Dandy, you are drying your stockings before you have fairly got over." The word dandy was a kind of contemptuous expression among the vulgar Jews; and hence, to this day, it designates a class of beings in many respects like the old dandies of Israel.

LEVI ANTIQUARIUS.

As general Washington was making a short tour, after his labors in the revolution had brought peace to our land, a singular occurrence happened. He was one day expected at a certain place, and the landlady was very busy in preparing dinner for him. At length a man having the appearance of a farmer entered and desired some dinner; the lady replied, she could not supply him, because she had been making great preparations for general Washington. "Well," replied he, "I can be content with almost any thing;" on which she placed before him some ordinary cold food. After having risen from the table, and being ready to resume his journey, he said, "now if you would see general Washington, you must be in haste; I am he, and must be on my way."

ALEXANDRIA
TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12

From the N York Daily Advertiser, Oct. 8.

LATE AND IMPORTANT NEWS FROM SPAIN.

The brig Joseph, arrived at this port last evening from Bordeaux, having left there on the 8th of September. F. Columbus Fenwick, esq came passenger, and is bearer of despatches from the American Minister at the court of Madrid, which place he left on the 23d of August. The Grand Council of Castilo had assembled and decided NOT TO RATIFY THE TREATY WITH AMERICA, and a courier was immediately despatched to the Spanish Ambassador in London. The Courier passed through Bordeaux on the 29th of August, with the official tidings of the non-ratification. Mr. Fenwick is bearer of despatches to our government to the same effect. The yellow fever which had been introduced into Cadiz in the Spanish ship of war Asia, from Havana, was raging with great violence.

Mr. KEAN, the celebrated Actor, is coming to America. On hearing the fact that Mr. Elliston had rented Drury-Lane Theatre, he instantly accepted an engagement to perform in the United atates.

All was tranquil in France. The Duchess de Berry expected an accouchment.

By the above arrival we received French papers to the 4th of September, but had no time for translation.

Mr. FENWICK, the private Secretary of our Minister to Spain, arrived at the Seat of Government on the 10th inst. after a short passage from France. We understand that he left Madrid subsequent to the day required by the Treaty for its ratification, at which time it had not been ratified by the king of Spain.

In consequence of the Fell's Point fever having made its appearanee in the garrison of Fort M'Henry, near Baltimore, that post has been evacuated and the troops marched to an encampment in the vicinity.

The Superior Court of this county ought to have been held this week; but Judge Donnel having come from Johnston Court very unwell, became too sick to attend to business—of course nothing was done, except binding over witnesses, &c. We are happy to state that the Judge is now convalescent, and it is hoped will be able to proceed to Franklin in time to hold that Court.

[Raleigh Min.

Commodore Perry, "on the maternal side was a descendant in a direct line from Sir William Wallace, so renowned in the history of Scotland—after whom, his parents at first intended to have named him."

QUICK DISPATCH.

The fast sailing packet schooner Express, Aldrich, master, has performed her voyage from New-York to Charleston and back in nineteen days, and delivered her cargo in good order.

EMIGRATION.

A Quebec paper states, that of about 12,000 emigrants arrived at that port this season, more than one half come over to the United States. Without harboring any ill will towards them, we should have been willing that they had taken up their quarters in Canada. Many emigrants have re-embarked from our ports for their native countries.

Phil. Union.

It is said that our government are about to erect a fort at the Falls of St. Marie, on the straits of that name, through which Lake Superior discharges itself into Lake Huron.

[Ibid.

INDIANA.

A letter from the neighborhood of the famous seat of the Harmonists, under charge of Mr. Rapp, says—"This society goes on with great success, and manufactures almost every thing—children excepted It is said that a restriction has been laid, and though numbers of married men and women sleep in the same house, it is greatly to the credit of this people, that, (believing it right to refrain,) only one or two children have been born in their settlement in the last five years.

Dutchess Ob.

DREADFUL.

We just announced the arrival of 3000 troops at the Havana. They paraded in great pomp for about seven hours in the heat of the sun, and we are told that 400 of them were on the evening of that day sent to the hospital, to die of the yellow fever. It was thought that a majority of the persons composing this expedition would cease to be in less than a month. [Niles' Register.

WARNING.

We state it as an undeniable fact, that a family on Fell's Point, which had been afflicted with the prevailing malady, had been attended by a physician, and restored to health.—Afterwards, this family took up their residence in the country, and have since returned to Fell's Point. The consequence has been, that they are now laboring under a second attack of the malignant disease, in the cure of which, the life of the physician must be put in jeopardy. Our fellow citizens have been forewarned, that nothing but a hard frost will quell this malady, and what compassion is to be extended towards those who so madly rush into their graves, and jeopardize the lives of others, merely because there is no law to prevent it.

COMPETITION AMONG THE BAKERS.

One of the bakers of our city advertises that he will sell the shilling loaf eight ounces heavier than the corporation weight; and another, not to be outdone, has announced in hand bills that his loaves shall be twelve ounces heavier than the assize. [N. Y. Col.

LENTILS.

The first experiment that we have heard of being made with this crop in our neighborhood, has been by Mr. Charles H. Hern, of Bern; and the result is flattering. He sowed 3 quarts on an eighth of an acre of ordinary soil, in May, and has gathered 3½ bushels of seed, weighing 65 lbs. per bushel of seed, weighing 64 lbs. per bushel more than 37 for 1. Lentils answer all the purposes of peas, and are an ameliorating crop.

The schr. Blazing Star, Snow, of this port, to St. Jago de Cuba, was captured the 14th September, by two open boats, fifteen miles to the eastward of the Moro, in a calm—the boats contained eleven men, all black, armed with cutlasses and pistols.—They took the vessel under the land, where they captured a small Spanish schooner—they then commenced plundering the Blazing Star of cargo and provisions until they filled the Spanish schooner—after detaining her till the evening of the 17th September, they cut her cables, got under weigh and stood to sea; then ordered the captain, mate and three of the crew into the boat, forcibly detaining the cook and one man on board, keeping all the vessel's papers, with every thing else except the clothes on their backs. After rowing until the 18th, at 11 A. M. arrived at St. Jago de Cuba. [M. C. H. Books.

Columbia, October 5.

A jury of inquest was held on the body of a female Negro Slave, about four miles above this place, on Sunday evening. After mature deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of murder by her owner, Christiana Hornsby.

If the decision of the jury be correct (and we have very little reason to doubt it,) who will not say, let the murderer be brought to condign punishment? And yet we scarcely know how this could be done. Strangers must feel an indignant horror on being told that so glaringly and scandalously defective is the law of South Carolina, on this point, that a murderer of the worst kind, who has destroyed his victim where there is no power of appeal or resistance, may escape with impunity, or at least by paying a paltry sum which would scarcely defray the funeral expenses of a man of ordinary standing.—Shame on the framers of such a law! We repeat it, in behalf of justice and humanity—shame to the man who could be so far influenced by interest and prejudice as to give his voice in favor of a law which would be a disgrace to any country! We could wish to hear this echoed, and loudly echoed from one end of the state to the other, until those who have taken an active part in supporting this measure should blush at their proceedings, and hasten as far as they are able, to consign to oblivion an act which carries disgrace and infamy on the very face of it.

WESTERN CANAL.

A letter from a gentleman in Rome, to the editor of this paper, dated 27th ult. states that the water is now in the canal for the distance of nine miles, commencing about four miles below that village; and that the commissioners and engineers have passed in boats drawn by horses, upon the canal, upwards of 8 miles. The writer adds, that "before the close of the season, salt will undoubtedly be carried from Salina to Utica by means of the canal."

To the editors of the Albany Gazette.

Some of your readers may be gratified in being informed of the dimensions of two of the largest churches in Europe, and perhaps the two largest buildings in the world. The one is St. Peter's at Rome, the other St. Paul's at London. The dimensions of which are as follows:

	St. Paul's.	St. Peter's.
Length, within.	500	669
Breadth, at the entrance,	100	226
Front, without,	180	305
Breadth, at the cross,	223	442
Cupola, clear,	108	139
Do. and lantern, high,	330	432
Church, high,	110	146
Pillars, in front,	40	91

The church at Rome will contain 30,000 persons at one time—that at London, I am not informed of, but I should say it could not exceed one half that number—but in this I may very probably be mistaken, and should be happy to be corrected through the medium of your paper.

St. Peter's is truly one of the wonders of the world, and St. Paul's is little less so.

MILITARY EXPEDITION TO THE UPPER MISSOURI.

The steam boat Expedition, foremost of Col. Johnson's fleet succeeded in getting as far as Fort Osage (270 miles) in a period of six weeks. At that place she gave out and transferred her contents to keel boats. Gen. Jessup had preceded her to Fort Ossage and made provision to meet this failure which had been long foreseen. The Johnson steam boat is the only remaining vessel of the "steam fleet" which continues her way up the Missouri. She had not arrived at Fort Osage however at the last advices, but probably has arrived there before this time, and may possibly reach camp Martin (370 miles from St. Louis;) which we have no hesitation in affirming will be the limit of her progress for this summer.

Col. Atkinson, commanding the expedition, and all the troops which went in keel boats, had arrived some time ago at Fort Osage.

It is exceedingly ridiculous to see in what manner the Messrs. Johnsons have been extolled for their enterprize, their patriotism, and their pecuniary sacrifices in carrying on this expedition: when in point of fact they have had incredible advances of public money, have failed in all their undertakings, and occasioned great delay in the progress of the troops.

The expedition however will go on, and will succeed. Transportation is now furnished by the quarter-master's department, and provisions are furnished by the commissariat. Already sixty or eighty thousand dollars have been expended by these two departments to meet the deficiencies of the Messrs. Johnson's, and the zeal and energy of the officers will leave nothing undone to effect an establishment at the Council Bluffs in the course of this summer. [Enquirer.

In our paper of last Wednesday, we noticed a slanderous story in the Edwardsville paper, headed "Mob at Boon's Lick."—We have seen and conversed with a gentleman who was an eye witness to the transaction which is thus termed a "a mob" by the renegadoes at Edwardsville.—The circumstance transpired at a camp meeting where there was a considerable number of people collected together both white and black.—Smith was discovered to be very busy among the blacks, even so far as to encourage them to mutinize; some of the citizens remonstrated with him upon the impropriety of such conduct; in reply, Smith used insulting language, and declared that "if the negroes in the territory would revolt and embody themselves, he would place himself at their head and lead them to battle if necessary;" on uttering these expressions, he was immediately chastised, as he would have been any where else for similar conduct—there was not the least violence used towards his family. [ibid.

FOREIGN NEWS.

By the arrival this forenoon of the ship Albion, from Liverpool, we have received London papers to the 2d September, inclusive, eight days later than before received. The great Westminster meeting was held on the 2d September, with Sir Francis Burdett at their head, to deliberate upon the conduct of the magistrates at the late Manchester riot.—The meeting assembled at 12 o'clock, with music, flags, placards, &c and before 3 o'clock it was calculated that 30,000 persons were present. Sir Francis Burdett took the chair, and addressed the multitude. Among a number of observations, he hoped "the expression of abhorrence against the violence, and blooshed and murderers at Manchester, would be unanimous; and that every man of honor would feel himself bound to vindicate the outraged liberties of the nation. They were to decide whether they were to be permitted to breathe the air, and wear their own noses, without the permission of our weak ministers." He asserted that the arrest of Hunt was illegal, and that he had conducted himself throughout with wisdom and propriety. He was followed by Mr. Hobhouse and Major Cartwright, who concluded by moving an address to the Prince Regent; and the meeting broke up peaceably and orderly.

An article from Hamburgh, dated August 31 says—"The Brunswick post has not arrived to-day, and it is affirmed that its delay is occasioned by a terrible riot which has broken out there against the Jews, who, it is reported, are all massacred; and in consequence of that event, the town gates are closed. It is, nevertheless, considered, that the delay of the post may arise from less fearful circumstances, or that, if there has been any disturbance, the report is at least much exaggerated."

Accounts to the 16th of August, from Madrid, have reached London. They state that the court of Madrid had long hesitated upon the point of ceding to the United States, East and West Florida, and at last king Ferdinand has been advised by his ministers not to ratify the treaty. It is also stated, that the American sloop of war Hornet, had sailed from Cadiz, for the United States, without the ratification on board.

Cotton—This forenoon, says the London Courier of August 31, there appears to be a great revival in the demand. In Liverpool, on the 1st of September, Georgia boweds is quoted from 1s 11d to 1s 3d; New-Orleans from 1s 11d to 1s 5d.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

The deep interest we feel in this institution, induces us to give the following description of the buildings, from a letter.

TO THE EDITOR—dated

Charlottesville, Sept. 22.

As you are as well as myself, a warm friend to the University of Virginia, it will perhaps not be uninteresting to you to know what is doing here towards the accomplishment of this great work. I must first give you a general outline of the plan, that you may know what portion of the work is executed. It is contemplated to build on each side of a lawn a out two hundred feet wide, and on a beautiful eminence, a range of buildings for the accommodation of the professors and students. There are to be five pavilions on each side, from 80 to 100 feet apart—each pavilion has a lecture room, and four or five other rooms, for the use of the professor.—The intervals between the pavilions are filled up with dormitories, sufficiently large for two students to each. About thirty dormitories on each side of the lawn will fill up the intervals between the pavilions. Gardens will be laid off at the back of the pavilions, running back to a street about 250 feet from the lawn and parallel to it. On the back streets boarding houses and other dormitories will be erected. The lawn will be handsomely improved, by planting trees and sodding it. It will be terminated on the north end by a large circular building, and remain open to the south for any additional buildings that may be found necessary hereafter.—So much for the general plan. Now for what is executed. Two pavilions are nearly completed, they are of the very best materials, and the workmanship is well executed, and finished externally with great taste. One of them has a very rich Corinthian entablature; the other finished agreeably to Ionic order.—All the pavilions are to have porticoes in the front and a colonade in front of the dormitories, so that the students can go to any lecture room under cover. The buildings will be all finished agreeably to the different orders of architecture. In addition to the two going, four other pavilions, with intermediate dormitories are now going on, and it is expected one or two more will be put up this fall if the weather is favorable. It is much to be regretted that the funds of this institution are so slender, the subscribers, I understand, pay but little, and the donation of the state will not go far towards completing the establishment. It must therefore be prosecuted for years; if aid is not granted from some source or other, and where can we look but to the legislature? It will rest entirely with the next assembly to say whether this important state institution, (that will not only save thousands that are carried out of the state for the education of Virginians, but in all probability, will bring thousands from our sister state to the south and west) shall be finished with expedition, or drag on heavily for years to come. With sufficient funds the buildings could all be completed the next year."

A very curious piece of mechanism, of the nature of a pendulum clock, the completion of which has cost the artist, M. Rovez, 25 years labor, is now exhibiting at Paris. It offers to the eye 15 dial plates, great or small, which indicate,

1st. The age of the moon, the phases of that luminary, her rising, setting and passage to the meridian; the epacts and the golden number, for which the indices make their revolution in 19 years.

2d. The diurnal horary circle, subdivided into minutes and circles of time; the rising and setting of the sun, in regard to the inequality of every day in the year; the differences between true and mean time; the dominical letters; the solar cycle; for which purpose the indices make their revolution in 28 years.

3d. The annual motion of the earth round the sun; that of the moon round the earth, and the revolution of the celestial signs in their natural order.

4th. The difference of longitude for 432 cities, expressed by the diurnal movement of a circle of copper gilt, in the centre of which is a dial plate divided into 24 hours, with a pointing of minutes from 5 to 5, and carrying the sun in the middle, in such a manner that on reading the names of these cities, you see at a look the hour that is in each of them at the moment you make the examination.—This ingenious piece of machinery is put in motion by a counter balancing weight of only six pounds. For ordinary usage it sounds the quarters and hours; but that can be stopped at will; and in case the pendulum were forgotten to be wound up, it suffices, after [illegible]

ing repaired this omission, to bring the minute hand to its place. This simple operation rectifies all the other dials. It is said that a foreign Prince is in treaty with M. Rezez to acquire this splendid specimen of mechanical skill.

AMUSEMENT.

The following account of the examination of a witness, is rather selected to amuse than to be furnished as a uniform guide to those who manage the testimony in legal proceedings.

HOW TO EXAMINE A WITNESS.
Dramatis Personæ.

Counsellor BOTHERUM——JOHN PLAINLY.

Counsellor. A'um! hem!——Your name is John Plainly?

Witness. Yes, Sir.

C. What are you?

W. I am a watchmaker.

C. A watchmaker! Pray was you never a linen draper?

W. No, never.

C. What, are you sure you was never a linen draper?

W. Yes, I am sure.

C. And where do you live?

W. In Clerkenwell.

C. I don't ask you whether you live in Clerkenwell—you might as well tell me you live in Dublin or Mexico. What street do you live in?

W. On Clerkenwell Green.

C. O! you do, do you? And pray how long have you lived there?

W. Six or seven years.

C. Six or seven, pray recollect yourself—how much more than six or less than seven?

W. I can't precisely say, perhaps six years and a half.

C. Perhaps—we have nothing to do with perhaps. Remember you are upon oath.

W. I can't say—I am certain not seven years.

C. Now, Sir, you say you have lived not quite seven years upon Clerkenwell Green, and you are a watchmaker; recollect yourself, was you ever in a public house?

W. Yes.

C. O, you were, what I suppose pretty often, if the truth was known?

W. Yes, now and then.

C. I suppose once a day, ha?

W. No, very seldom above once a week.

C. What house do you frequent?

W. The King's Head.

C. Now recollect yourself—remember you are upon oath—was you never at the Cat and Fiddle?

W. Not that I know of.

C. You swear you never was? mind what I say. Gentlemen of the Jury pray attend to this—You swear you never was at the Cat and Fiddle?

W. No, I don't swear it—a man may go into a public house occasionally without observing the sign.

C. I don't ask you what a man may do—do you swear you never was at the Cat?

W. I can't say any more.

C. Sir, you must not answer so—remember you are upon oath—but as you never was at the Cat—do you know the prisoner at the bar?

W. I recollect him on the night the robbery happened.

C. I don't ask you about the robbery—do you know the prisoner at the bar?

W. No otherwise than I said—I saw him knock down—

C. Stop, fellow, we don't ask you to say that.

W. I have nothing else to say.

C. And pray now what might you see? I suppose you know you are upon oath?

[Witness here gives an account of the robbery]

C. Are you sure it was brandy and water the prisoner drank?

W. Yes I heard him ask for it.

C. That's a pretty reason—because you heard him ask for it—but can you swear he got it?

W. Yes, I saw it in his hand

C. Why did not you say so before? we don't want to know what you heard. —Now, Sir, be upon your guard—This is a matter of life and death—be serious Sir, and declare upon your oath whether there was any sugar in his brandy and water?

W. I can't tell, I believe not.

C. No trifling here fellow,—speak out; was there or was there not sugar in his liquor?

W. I say, Sir, I don't remember.

C. Come recollect yourself—you can't remember any thing of a lump of sugar? Pray what did the prisoner say when he attacked the person who was robbed?

W. I don't recollect much—he swore at him.

C. What did he swear?

W. He swore some horrible oaths and curses.

C. Curses—do you pretend to say he swore curses?

W. I can't say, he swore very bad.

C. Pray repeat some of them.

W. I do not remember them.

C. You are a pretty witness—you heard oaths and curses, and don't remember them. What did you come here for? What do you stand there for? What did you take an oath for?

W. You put me out so.

C. Put you out, fellow? why you have said nothing.

W. I have honestly told what I know.

C. O yes, very honestly no doubt—since you know nothing of the prisoner's cursing and swearing, pray what o'clock was it?

W. Betwixt ten and eleven.

C. None of your betwixts; was it five minutes past ten, or a quarter, or half an hour, or forty minutes? remember you are upon oath.

W. I can't say; I had no watch, I am sure it was not eleven.

C. And pray how are you sure of that?

W. I heard the watchman cry the hour after I got home.

C. O, you did, did you? what watchman?

W. One in the street I did not know him.

C. What, not know his name, and heard him cry the hour?

W. No—I never asked his name.

C. And pray now—remember you are upon oath—what did the watchman say when he cried the hour?

W. Say, Sir?

C. Yes, fellow, what did he say?

W. He said as nearly as I can recollect—

C. We don't want you to recollect—what did he say?—answer me that.

W. He said, "Past eleven o'clock."

C. Was that all?

W. Yes.

C. Didn't he say good night?

W. I did not hear him.

C. Now be upon your guard.—When the prisoner struck his companion, at what distance was he from him?

W. Distance!

C. Don't repeat my words, fellow—at what distance was he?

W. Just two feet six inches and three quarters.

C. Pray how came you to be so accurate in the distance?

W. Why I thought some fool would ask me the question: so I measured it.

Court, Have you any more questions to ask him?

W. No, my Lord, I have done.

Drifted or was Stolen,

FROM my landing on the Potomac, about one mile from Maryland Point, on Tuesday night, the 28th September, a small northern built YAWL BOAT, quite new, black gunwales; the seats, and her inside, as low as the seats, of a leaden color, and, I think, her gunwales on the outside of a cream color below them, for a short distance, of a leaden color; her bottom, both within and without, turpentine or varnish. I purchased her about the 22d or 23d of July of Mr. E. Corning, Alexandria. I will give five dollars for the boat alone, if brought home uninjured—and if stolen I will give ten dollars for the boat and conviction of the thief.

Land for Sale.

THE subscribers offer for sale, a valuable TRACT OF LAND, containing 700 acres, lying in Charles county, Maryland, near Smith's Point, and only one mile from the Potomac river; one-half of which is in valuable wood timber, and the soil equal to any in the neighborhood. The improvements are a good dwelling house, with four rooms on a floor; a large barn, nearly new; and every convenient out-house, such as are required on a farm. A credit of one and two years will be given, the purchaser giving bond, with approved security, and if not punctually paid, to bear interest from the day of sale.

If not sold at private sale, it will be offered at public sale, on the 16th November next.

Correct Information.

THE stock advertised for sale by the Mechanics' Bank as standing in my name, is not our property. Our stock thereon has been continued, under heavy and disproportioned curtailments, ever since March 1818, for the use of the real owners, a respectable mechanic of this place, because he could not obtain leave, upon a transfer to substitute his stock note for our's. We have no interest in said stock beyond the time that will retire the said stock note, and we do not think it proper to advance more money than we have done for curtailments.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WM. MASON.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the surname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. WM HAWLEY, Washington, Rev. WM. H. WILMER, Alexandria, Rev. OLIVER NORRIS, Alexandria, Rev. REUEL KEITH, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 25
